

“Advice and counsel that is concise, timely,
on-point and cost-effective.”

Stephanie Scharf Interviewed on Future of Securities Class Actions

On February 27, 2015, Inside Counsel published an interview with partner Stephanie Scharf regarding the future of securities class actions. Stephanie noted several potential trends, including the targeting of foreign corporations with business in the U.S., the more complicated evidentiary issues that stem from the recent Supreme Court decision, and a growing skepticism in the judiciary about the fees awarded to plaintiffs’ counsel in settled cases. Read the entire interview at insidecounsel.com.